

PASTIME TODAY

Mutual Star Productions Presents

Gripping Theme Worked Into New Mutual Drama Featuring William Russell. NORTH WOODS PICTURED.

The lives of the denizens of the woods are revealed in their true colors in this drama.

The vast silences of the forests and the solitude of a woodman, surrounded on all sides by the splendours of nature bring out all the best in his character and subdues all that is evil.

The scenes laid in the mountains of California are the rugged virgin places far from the haunts of men and for natural beauty are unequalled in motion pictures.

One of the most realistic fight scenes ever staged in the silent drama is to be found in the fourth act of "The Strength of Donald McKenzie," in which William Russell, the handsome and athletic Mutual star, appears in the role of a guide of the North Woods.

Mr. Russell as "Donald McKenzie," the post-nature man, has a role for which he is ideally fitted, and to which he adds the force of his personality and his powerful acting. Already he is recognized as a screen actor second to none in the portrayal of real everyday human men, who can do things out of the ordinary and who invariably accomplish the object of their endeavors.

"The Strength of Donald McKenzie," with William Russell, Pastime Today.

The vast silences of the forest and the solitude of a woodman surrounded on all sides by the splendours of nature bring out all the best in his character and subdues all that is evil.

The lives of the denizens of the woods are revealed in their true colors in the Mutual Star Production, "The Strength of Donald McKenzie," a virile five act drama featuring William Russell, which comes to the Pastime theatre today. The success attained in "Sun Mates" and "The Hottest Bid," the first of the William Russell series of Mutual Star Productions, has been surpassed in this latest offering. The scenes laid in the mountains of California are the rugged virgin places far from the haunts of men and for natural beauty are unequalled in motion pictures.

Alta Today.

"The Quitter," a western picture featuring Lionel Barrymore in a story written by Isola Forrester. The plot is unusual and has been skillfully handled and many of the situations are either exciting or amusing. Marguerite Skervin appears to advantage in support of Mr. Barrymore.

CAR SHORTAGE FELT AT ECHO

GRAIN SHIPPERS ARE HANDICAPPED—MANY EXHIBITS ATTEND THE ROUND-UP.

(East Oregonian Special.) ECHO, Sept. 26.—A shortage of cars for shipping grain has been felt at Echo as well as elsewhere. Two cars though were received yesterday and immediately sent to Portland with wheat.

Echo was well represented at the great western drama otherwise known as the Round-Up. During the three days while it lasted, three hundred and eleven tickets were sold from here for the trip to Pendleton, two hundred and one on Saturday alone.

besides many made the trip by auto. All agree that it was the best of all the Round-Ups.

Miss Fern Danstrom of Creswell, Ore., is here visiting with her aunt, Mrs. John Schindler.

Lee Savely and brother, Wilbur Wilbur Savely, left Saturday night for their parents' home in Kentucky. They went via Spokane, Wash., from which place they will take a train load of sheep to Chicago for Standard Bros., and then on to their destination.

P. Hunter returned Sunday morning from Amak, Wash., where he was selecting the land on the Colville reservation which he got at the late land drawing.

L. T. Fugitt, the third trick operator at the O. W. R. & N. depot here, has resumed his work after several weeks absence while undergoing an operation at St. Vincent's Hospital in Portland and recuperation at North Powder.

Mrs. S. J. Sterns took care of the Echo county library Saturday while Miss Gulliford attended the Round-Up.

W. von Winkler left Saturday for Kellogg, Wash., on a visit to his parents.

Mrs. Elita Fryer left last evening for a few days' stay in Pendleton with her father, W. B. Tillett.

Mrs. E. D. Graves and daughter, Miss Ruby Graves of La Grande, Ore., and Mrs. M. E. Richardson of Lewiston, spent Friday night and part of Saturday here. They were attending the Pendleton Round-Up and being unable to get rooms in Pendleton came to Echo Friday night. Mrs. Graves at one time lived here.

G. P. Higginbotham returned last evening to North Powder, Ore., after a two days' visit. He was looking after his land interests here.

Mr. Allen and daughter of Outlook, Wash., was here the first of the week, visiting his brother, L. M. Allen and family of Butler creek.

L. W. Smith of Stanfield, was in Echo yesterday.

W. R. Gillett, who has been ill for some time, went to Pendleton Sunday evening for treatment.

FIGHTING FOR SUFFRAGE

MARGARETTA VAN R. SCHUYLER

Mrs. Margaretta Van R. Schuyler has had unusually good training for a suffrage worker. Born in New York City and always ambitious she began work as a newspaper reporter of the Portland Express, not in the society department nor as a son writer, but as a straight reporter. She was later secretary to Mrs. August Belmont and in this work she not only learned something of the woman's movement but she learned women as well, women in various walks of life.
